

See the weight, see the glory

Justin Rizzo © 2007

I don't want to perish for lack of vision
So come to me with revelation of the frailty of this life

Verse 1

So prone to wander
So prone to stray
So prone to lose heart
And lose my way

Verse 2

I will not despise
The sowing of seeds
For I know in due time
I will see (I will reap)

The fruit of my labor
For all of eternity
The fruit of my labor
I give myself wholly to thee

Chorus

See the weight
See the glory
Of what you're doing
It is affecting your forever

There's a reason that I told you
To set your mind on things above
There's a reason that I told you
To set your eyes on Me

For nothing in this life
Will ever truly satisfy
The desires of my soul
